

AXE LIBRARY GUIDELINES

Building Hours

Building hours for the Axe Library and the KTC Library are determined by the availability of student assistants for staffing activities and by the pattern and volume of patron activity.

During intercessions, breaks and holidays the library is generally closed evenings and weekends. During sessions when breaks or holidays occur, the library generally opens the night before the resumption of classes.

The Dean of Library Services prepares and presents the library schedule for the ensuing academic year (including all holidays, breaks and intercessions) to the Library Faculty for advice prior to the end of the Spring semester. The current library calendars can be found at axe.pittstate.edu
